

EU FAMILY MEMBER VISA

OVERVIEW

The following individuals are entitled to a preferential, free-of-charge EU family member visa:

1. Family members of citizens of the European Union or of the States of the European Economic Area (EEA) or Switzerland.
2. Family members of citizens of the United Kingdom, provided that they are beneficiaries of the Withdrawal Agreement.

To qualify for this type of visa, applicants must be travelling with the citizen of the European Union, the EEA, Switzerland or with the citizen of the United Kingdom who is a beneficiary of the Withdrawal Agreement, or are on the way to joining them.

Nationals of third countries listed in Annex I of Regulation \(EU\) 2018/1806 require a Schengen visa for stays of up to 90 days (in any 180-day period). Conversely, Nationals of third countries not listed in Annex I are not required to obtain a visa for stays of up to 90 days.

Family members of Union citizens who wish to remain in Spain beyond 90 days must, once in Spain, register with the competent authorities for a residence card as Union citizen family member.

The following can obtain a visa for family members of a citizen of the Union:

- The spouse, provided that there has been no annulment or divorce.
- The partner registered in a Member State of the European Union or EEA or Switzerland, provided that such registered partnership has not been legally terminated.
- Direct descendants of the Union citizen or of their spouse or registered partner (provided that there has been no annulment or divorce or legal termination of the registration) who are under the age of 21 and above that age if they are dependent or disabled.
- Direct relatives in the ascending line of the Union citizen or of their spouse or registered partner (provided that there has been no annulment or divorce or legal termination of their registration) that are their dependants.
- Family members other than the above who, in their country of origin, live with the citizen of the Union or are their dependants.
- Exceptionally, other family members when serious health grounds or disability strictly require their personal care by the Union citizen.
- The unregistered partner, provided that stable cohabitation for a minimum period of one year can be duly attested. When there are children in common, it will be sufficient to ascertain stable cohabitation.
